“ Mawmaw, i have m many memories that i will never forget. One that i will hold dear to my heart. The times when i was just a girl, you would take me to the flea market with you so that you could do your business. That was the time it was just you and I. Those were some fun times. You were a strong willed woman and i hope that i am that strong when im older. Its hard to believe your no longer here, but i know your in a better place. I hope there's some apple trees up there for you. I love and miss you. Fly high mawmaw.
