“ I remember the time Jimbo was outside in the yard when we were kids, about preteen age I reckon. We was wrestling and he came running and just before he went to jump and land just in that moment I lifted my legs and flipped him over me. We both was in shock for a moment, then all we could do is lay there on the ground laughing. He was my uncle but we were raised like brothers for a little while. Uncle Jimmy, a lot of family and friends are going to miss you, but I know and believe that you are reunited with your mother and daddy
(my papa and grandma). Tell them I said hey.
