“ R.V. rode our bus when he started to school(head start). He was 4 or 5. Head start back then was in town. He got on the bus early, went to Dyal then had to go on to town. It was a very long day and he usually went to sleep when he got on our bus. The bus driver would get irritated when R.V. was slow in getting off the bus. Well, we decided that we would make sure he got his nap and was ready to get off the bus. He was just so sweet and the prettiest eyes ever. I had the opportunity to tell Miss Jean about our story just a few years back. I will forever see that little boy napping in that seat and see his Mama waiting at the mailbox every afternoon. Love and prayers and "thank you" R.V. for these sweet memories.
